1:1 & Semi-Private Coaching

TotalLink to Community is proud to offer one-on-one individual and semi-private (2-3 people) coaching in a variety of areas. This is an opportunity to work privately with a coach on a goal that is important to you.

Coaching areas may include but are not limited to art, cooking, yoga, technology, life skills (including self-advocacy, problem-solving, etc.), building a meaningful schedule, meal preparation, and budgeting.

Coaching services are provided in a variety of settings (at our office, a local coffee shop, in the adult's home, or over Zoom) and typically last anywhere from 30 to 120 minutes.

Progress towards your goal is monitored monthly, including a meeting with your circle of support two months into your coaching. At this meeting, the team will decide the next best time to meet for a progress check-in.

Please contact Jade Andrews at jandrews@totallink.org to schedule an introductory call. If you decide to move forward with coaching, we will have a goal-setting meeting to identify your most important goal of interest. TotalLink works with several coaches that may be a good fit for you. Once we identify the right coach, they will arrange a meet and greet to get to know you and create a coaching schedule.

1:1 coaching is a partnership between TotalLink, the participant, and the family. In order to participate in coaching, we ask that those involved review and sign the 1:1 Coaching Agreement.
